

A job is a means to an end

A job is a means to an end but how do you find balance between your job and your startup?

This is a cross-post with our blog and IndieHackers

With rising inflation, skyrocketing home prices, and the daily cost of living going up overall, it's not likely that most startup founders will be spared from higher costs in their businesses.

Furthermore, startups cost money.

From monthly SaaS subscriptions to new hardware for your home office, the costs do add up, even if you're bootstrapping it.

So I'm going to address how you can find a happy medium between being an indie hacker and employee.
